

40 University Drive
Rindge, NH 03461
(603) 899-4000
franklinpierce.edu

March 26, 2020

A message from your team at the Center for Academic Excellence

As we prepare for the shift to online classes for the remainder of the semester, please know that the entire CAE staff are still here and prepared to help all students in any way you may need. We encourage you to call, email or use social media to connect about any academic questions or concerns. We also encourage you to work closely with your academic advisors and professors, use the Wensberg Writing Center and most importantly, stay connected on the FPU webpage and the RavenNation app for timely updates. All questions that you may have are important; please, use your resources for assistance. We've put some contact info below.

We in the CAE often say that almost every student will experience some sort of setback, difficulty, or challenge during a semester, and how you navigate those issues can ultimately define your future successes. Obviously, no one could have predicted this current situation we all find ourselves in. However, we suggest that we all use this new normal as an opportunity: to stay focused, get caught up, try new strategies for success and finish the semester successfully. We are all part of the Franklin Pierce family. Let's stay the course and complete the semester, Raven Strong.

Tracy M., Jim, Patti, Tracy C., Eric, Vicky, Emily Q., and Emily K.
Center for Academic Excellence
(603) 899-4107

Some helpful links:

academicexcellence@franklinpierce.edu

<http://eraven.franklinpierce.edu/writingcenter/index.htm>

<https://www.franklinpierce.edu/studentlife/stservices/outreach.htm>

<https://franklinpierce.edu/about/coronavirus/index.htm>